Re: Lower Kasilof Boat Launch; FY2009 Governors Capital Budget Appropriation.
Department of Fish and Game Reference No.44823

Honorable Governor Palin,

I am writing this letter concerning the above proposals because of the negative impact this would have on the neighborhood and environment I live in. I have witnessed the increase in drift boat traffic over the fifteen years my husband and I have lived at 52080 Tall Grass Ave. By putting in a State public access-boat launch the road traffic will greatly increase and so will the noise, vandalism and trespassing. The thought of having road traffic at all hours of our summer nights is something I never expected to happen in this neighborhood.

But more important are the environmental issues involved in this proposal. The Trujillo site at river mile 3.5 is an old cannery. The demolition of these buildings could put the area (long established quiet residential subdivision) at risk of exposure to hazardous building materials and ground wastes. The Trujillo riverbank side now has an old drift boat landing and a dirt parking lot, which floods during high tides. There are rye grass tidal flats where birds (sandhill cranes, geese, ducks) come in from April to May. I would urge you to have an environmental impact statement under the national environment policy (NEPA) act done.

I urge you not to fund the Department of Fish and Game's proposal (Reference No. 44823) to buy the Trujillo property. Having a powerboat launch on the lower Kasilof River would cause the same bank erosion, noise, pollution, and overcrowding that is ruining the Kenai River.

Sincerely,
Francesca Stetson

Capital Notes

Half way through

The Legislature is well into the second half of the session, already eclipsing the half way mark a week back. Both sides are feverishly attempting to put a wrap on the state's operating budget. The operating budget, which covers the operating costs for all state functions such as funding for state troopers, Medicaid programs, road maintenance, airports etc., will likely be the largest operating budget in state history. As passed by the House last week, the operating budget exceeded 10 billion in total funding, close to a 10% increase from the previous year's budget. With action by the Senate expected this week, final action on the state operating budget could be completed by both sides as early as next week.

Funding Measures and Surpluses

A supplemental funding bill is also going through both sides of the legislature. This is a normal operating procedure for the administration and the legislature as unforeseen costs are annually adjusted in a supplemental funding bill to the previous year's enacted operating budget. However, this year things are a little different. As you may recall from last year, the legislature passed a rather large capital budget with many Legislators projects vetoed by the Governor. Well, strangely many of the projects deleted by the Governor have been added into the supplemental budget requested by the administration. As one legislator put it, "this is our way to let the Governor know who is the appropriating body." U! nder the Constitution only the legislature can appropriate money, while the Governor holds the veto power. The new approach at funding capital projects in the state's supplemental operating budget will likely create a few fireworks as the session draws to a close next month.

Save a Buck Campaign

Additionally, revenue forecasts have suggested the state may have an additional 3.5 to 4 billion dollars this year. The supplemental bill also carried a provision inserted by the Senate to dump 2.6 billion into the constitutional budget reserve (CBR). As Rep. Mike Hawker astutely pointed out at the Chamber of Commerce annual legislative fly-in, any measure to put money into the CBR is simply political posturing. So do legislators need to make appropriations to the CBR?

No, all they need to do is not appropriate the money and it automatically rolls into the CBR as Rep Hawker explained to attending folks.

Look for members of the House to jump on the bandwagon to see who can save the most money. Regardless of bragging rights, the state chamber has made it a top priority to encourage our legislators to save as much as is feasibly possible. With a gasline potentially many years away, oil production is dwindling fast. Even with the high price of oil, it is expected the state budget will be busted in 10 years or less. Less if the legislature continues to spend without looking to the future.

State Chamber Legislative Fly-In

Last week, the Alaska State Chamber of Commerce held its annual fly-in with business folks coming to Juneau from all over the state to participate and learn about issues affecting Alaskans. The first day's session took attendees through an in-depth look at the political, logistical and competitive issues surrounding Alaska's gas pipeline. Analysis and interpretations on gas issues were presented by Rep. Ralph Samuels, Dan Fauske (administrations AGIA team), Tony Palmer for TransCanada, and Brian Wenzel for Conoco-Phillips. The gasline presentations brought together a mix of perspectives on a very complex issue surrounding the future of Alaska's! gas pipeline. Some folks were optimistic after the presentation and discussions, while some folks felt much work is yet to be done to get the project moving.

We also heard from legislators on other issues including Rep. Mike Hawker on the budget surplus and a fiscal plan and Sen. Johnny Ellis on unemployment insurance. Dan Barr presented information on the potential to develop an Alaskan business plan. Later in the event, a seminar was held in the Senate Finance Room with legislators stopping by to discuss a variety of personal and business issues. Those folks included: Senator Hollis French on health insurance, Senator Gary Wilken on financial issues and uses of the permanent fund, Rep. Beth Kerttula on growing up in the Capitol and what it means to be a legislator, and Rep. John Coghill who covered a variety of issues. Senate President Lyda Green, and Speaker of the House John Harris, each made individual appearances, and were both able and knowledgeable presenters to the Alaskan business co! mmunity.

The two day event was topped off by a formal board meeting with a casual reception held for legislators and staff at the mid-way point in the two day process. The reception sponsored by Wal-Mart and the Alaskan Brewery Company drew more than 100 plus business and legislative participants. More than half of the elected members from the Senate and the House made an appearance to mix with Alaska's best in business.

In the midst of a 90-day session, we at the State Chamber found it particularly rewarding that so many members of our Alaska Legislature were able to juggle very tight schedules to participate with us. It was truly a generous gesture to give us so much of their time.

State Chamber of Commerce

As always we are working on many different bills. HB 103-Bond Requirement on Appeal, SB 122-Municipal Property Tax exemption and SB 120-Unemployment insurance, are just a few of the many different bills being looked after this week.

While there are a number of issues the State Chamber is working on, if there is an issue that is important to you and your business, please let the folks at the Alaska State Chamber of Commerce know of your concerns.

Re: Lower Kasilof river boat launch, FY2009 Governors Captial Budget Appropriation Department of Fish and Game proposal #44823, included in HB311

I am writing to oppose funding for the Lower Kasilof Boat Launch.
I object to the state using the Trujillo parcel for a public boat launch and parking area. I live in the residential subdivision between that parcel and the state highway, and I would be severely affected by this decision. Our roads are over 30 years old and were never designed to handle that much traffic, and still provide safety and accessibility for our homeowners and children playing outside.

The Kasilof river currently has a very limited motorized boat us, due to river conditions. It is primarily a drift boat fishery, and I believe it is not allowed to fish from any motorized boat as well. Why provide access for power boats, then? The ADF&G uses a boat equipped with a jet drive and this boat can be heard quite clearly and loudly in my yard, 2 blocks from the river! The Kenai river is now addressing water quality issues of pollution from hydrocarbons, as well as noise and bank erosion from the boat traffic there. Should we not know the impact this may have on a much smaller river, before that damage is done here?

There has been no public process or notification, and our neighbors are very concerned about the impact this would have for us.
I ask you to please deny funding for this bill.

Dear Ms. Pepi - Thank you for your email expressing concern about funding for a Kasilof River Boat launch. As you know, Governor Palin has included $2 million in her FY2009 capital budget for this purpose. The governor recognizes that sport fishing is an important component of the economy and quality of life on the Kenai Peninsula and boating access is an essential aspect of providing sport fishing opportunity. The legislature is currently considering this funding request and public input is an important part of the budget process. House and Senate Finance committees have been carefully reviewing the budget and will have scheduled time for public comment. I would encourage you to provide written or oral testimony to the finance committees.

Should this funding be included in the budget, the Department of Fish & Game is committed to conducting a public process. The department's Statewide Boating Access Coordinator is working with Department of Natural Resources staff to hire a consulting firm to conduct a feasibility study for the boat launch project. The contract will include conducting public hearings, developing a concept level design, construction cost estimates, annual and long term maintenance costs, permitting requirements, and identifying archaeological/historical issues. There are two sites that will be evaluated under this contract, Trujillo's Landing and Foxhill Estates Subdivision.

I would also encourage you to keep in touch with Charles Swanton, Director of Sport Fish, who is the best source of information on this project. Charlie can be reached at 465-6184 or charles.swanton@alaska.gov.

Governor:

I am checking with DOT on the project Sen. Dyson complains about. If I recall earlier conversations with John MacKinnon on the subject, DOT made some changes to the project that followed Sen. Dyson's intent language but did not modify the project in every way that he requested. It will probably be tomorrow before I can get to the bottom of this.

I do not think his complaint about the AG has any merit. He complains that DOT did not follow his intent language on the project in budget bills. I believe the Constition (Confinement Clause) and Alaska Supreme court cases limit the legislature's use of intent language to restrict actions of the Executive Branch.

Governor, the 30 day public notice for changing the 2 cycle ban from 2010 to 2013 was completed March 7. There were only 8 comments this time with 4 supporting the 2013 date. In fact the Kenai Area Fisherman's Coalition who fought the first ban said this was an acceptable compromise. Two wanted it left at 2010 and two were neutral. I have signed the 2013 adoption order, that will go to law and then to the Lt Gov for filing. If you have any questions please let me know. Tom

Subject: Kasilof Boat Launch

Dear Governor Palin,

This smells like a 2 week old humpy. The ADFG Sportfish Division proposal #44823 contained in House Bill 311 really stinks. Without any public process, the Sportfish Division and State Parks are continuing to promote a plan to build a large boat ramp and parking facility on the lower Kasilof River. The Kasilof River now has a drift-boat only sport fishery and as a result of that has none of the hydrocarbon pollution, turbidity and boat wake erosion problems that plague the Kenai River. One of the sites being considered for the new facility is a small privately owned boat ramp. The owner does not allow use of his ramp to anyone before 7am as the access road goes through a residential subdivision and trucks pulling boat trailers down a gravel road are extremely noisy, boats with motors are also not allowed to use the ramp. The proposed facility would allow 10 times as many users with no restrictions.

We already have enough social and environmental problems in the lower Kasilof River due to lack of planning and zero enforcement. The Kasilof River Personal Use Fishery is a good example of an environmental disaster in progress. This fishery attracts thousands of users from all over the state and because no agency is in charge of crowd control these people can camp for weeks and weeks on the dunes at the mouth of the river. These campers run their ATVs through the fragile grasses that help protect the dunes and dump their trash and sewage on the dunes and in the adjacent wetlands. In contrast, the City of Kenai last year spent over $95,000 managing the Kenai Personal Use Fishery and the city administration recommends they spend an additional $75,000.

I suggest that the state should work to fix existing problems before creating new ones. Please strip this ill-conceived proposal out of the budget and start talking to the local people about what the community really needs.

Thanks for your help,

Erik Huebsch

In case you are not aware 80% of the prey species in Alaska that die each year are killed by the helpless and innocent bears and wolves you refer to in your email. I suspect our moose and caribou don't see them in the same light as you do, but then I am sure you are much more informed than they. As far as you visiting our state, I would have to discourage you from doing that as there are a number of vile, despicable and loathsome people here who do eat moose and caribou because they don't have a Safeway to buy meat from or have a slaughterhouse to do their killing for them. I am sure you have both so you can be a person of conscience and be nobler than these poor wretches. By the way, these vile people harvest about 5% of the animals each year. In regard to your wish for the disposition of our souls I hope you are mistaken, but if not I am sure I will see you there. Sincerely Bob

Dear Alaskan wildlife officials,

Just wanted to thank you for making my decision, and that of everyone I know, an easy one to never set foot in your state or knowingly support anything that has to do with Alaska. Your continued slaughtering of wolves from the air and otherwise, and decision to do the same to bears, is reprehensible in the extreme and will not be tolerated by people of conscience!

I don't give a damn about your bogus, unfounded rationale of increasing ungulate populations for subsistence--read trophy and sport--hunting, only a vile, despicable, loathsome human being could approve of and/or participate in such a barbaric, inhumane endeavor. What the hell gives you the right to arbitrarily massacre other sentient beings to euphemistically "manage" them?!

Unfortunately we don't live in a perfect world, but if we did anyone involved in and/or supportive of these decisions would suffer the same fate as what is being cruelly inflicted on helpless, innocent wolves and bears. Although I'm not a religious person, I take great comfort in knowing that all of you will one day be burning in Hell for your evil actions!

Governor - You have had access to make appointments on your calendar for several months per our computer folks. You are not able to make appointments from your blackberry at this time. This is something that we can have changed just for you. I have a lap top that I leave at home that lets me go directly into the calendar and make changes.

Kris - I am sure you already know how to go in and make appointments - please email or call and I can walk you through it if you have any questions.

The only other people on your calendar that has accessibility to schedule is I, Hannah, and Sunny. Mike Tibbles has viewing rights only. Janice

MESSAGE:

March 12, 2008

The Honorable Governor Sarah Palin

Office of the Governor

P. O. Box 110001

Juneau, AK 99811-0001

Dear Governor Palin,

We are writing to ask you to urge the Senate and House Resources Committees to hold hearings on two important bills: House Bill 74 and Senate Bill 238. Both bills would close a dangerous loophole in existing statute that allows mixing zones, zones where regulations allow a body of water to exceed water quality standards, in spawning streams.

As commercial fishermen, we depend on Alaska's clean water to produce healthy catches of salmon, halibut, and other fish. As a commercial fisherman, we work to protect fish habitat.

Fishing families depend on the purity of the Alaskan lakes, streams, and rivers. In 2005, salmon harvesting and seafood processing in Southeast Alaska alone supported 2,847 jobs (USDA, 2007). Commercial fishermen in the region earned $92 million while seafood processors' payroll was $38 million (McDowell Group, 2004). Alaska's clean water ensures the purity of our fish and enables it to command high prices in world markets.

The cities of Homer, Soldotna, Juneau, Wrangell, Port Alexander, Tenakee Springs, Pelican, and Yakutat, the Ketchikan Gateway Borough and the Kenai Peninsula Borough have all passed resolutions opposing mixing zones in spawning streams. Furthermore, numerous fishing organizations, including the Alaska Trollers Association, United Southeast Alaska Gillnetters, Yukon River Drainage Fisheries Association, and United Fishermen of Alaska have passed resolutions or submitted comment letters against DEC's proposed regulations.

Protecting spawning streams is good for business. Please encourage the House and Senate Resources Committees to hear this bill.

Sincerely,

Paul Barnes

Re: Lower Kasilof boat launch, FY2009 Governors Capital Budget Appropriation Department of Fish and Game proposal #44823, in SB256 and HB311

Honorable Governor Palin:

I am writing to oppose the funding for the Lower Kasilof Boat Launch, which was vetoed last year

I have a few comments that I did not address in my last email to you, that I feel are very important.

I am aware that Fish and Game say they are going to evaluate two sites for this proposal, the Trujillo parcel and Foxhill Estate Subdivision. I cannot support the funding of this proposal because the Trujillo parcel is where Kenai River Sportfishing Assoc. targeted, while floating with Fish and Game, as their ideal boat launch, that will be used primarily for commercial guide drift boat interest, but in order to obtain the use of Federal money from the tackle tax, they need to create a motorized boat launch for public use. I am concerned that what is happening to the Kenai River with overuse of motorized boats and increased traffic, how can we let the same devastation happen to the Kasilof River?

I have lived in this neighborhood for 16 years and am very concerned at the detrimental impact this will have on us and the Kasilof River. The Trujillo landing has only been used primarily as a pullout for commercial guide boats, in a limited capacity with limited hours of operation. The river now has very limited motorized boat use with Fish and Game using a riverboat equipped with a jet drive and it disturbs the peace and quiet in my yard three blocks from the river. I feel that increased traffic on the river would be unsustainable and have detrimental impact to water quality, noise levels, and the overall peace that we now enjoy. Who will monitor this site? Currently we do not have enough personnel to fully monitor and police the fisheries we have.

I feel this proposal is ill advised and without due process, there has been no public notification, concept design, or public concern for this highly controversial proposal. Where is the public process in this? Please do not fund this proposal and risk more damage to the Kasilof River and put an end to a very respectful and enjoyable neighborhood. I have written public testimony from this letter addressed to Kevin Meyer, to be presented for House Bill 311, if it passes from SB256. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Cynthia Smith

While I applaud your efforts meeting with the House yesterday to compromise on the next couple years budget and end the unnecessary political games I am wondering why instead of offering a set amount to each house district you don't urge them to fund all the unfunded mandates the boroughs and cities face. This with a set amount given to the cities and borough would be a great start on sustainable revenue sharing. I live in the MSB the fastest growth area of the state and am uneasy with the computation that has so far been offered as a revenue sharing package. It appears to me that our borough will receive less than last year. What is your stand on funding the unfunded mandates? I am continually amazed and impressed with your efforts to go where no recent governor has gone in doing what is best for Alaska. This would be yet another great contribution your administration could make to all Alaskans!

How do we place a "..." to cover the Ill's of Alsaka. We have a boundless supply of energy, resources, people and initative. What we lack is the stability of purpose to proceed wihtout thinking of our individual "wants" and consider "Alaska" needs.

For 10 years I have listened to the up and down comments, corruption, single mindedness of purpose, and pie in the sky thoughts and aspirations of elected officials. What has it gotten us? Nothing. We are no closer now to relaizing a stable economy outside of fish, tourists and a depleating supply of oil.

If I could tell legislatures one thing and one thing only, it would be simply, quit hashing and arguing about who gets the larger piece of pie. Because, soon the pie will no longer be there.

Thanks, and congratulations to you and your family .

I had a follow-up conversation with both Mark and Colleen this morning regarding similar concerns you mentioned below. I am following up on this end and will talk with Commissioner Campbell.

What is he talking about in his letter to editor in Frontiersman - and if this is the comment that Mark Kelsey suggested was coming publicly last week it is a shame it wasnt addressed before his letter was published. Pls find out what you can - I have no idea what he's talking about. Pls work with DMVA to deal with it and just let me know the solution and conclusion. Thanks. Dear Govonor Palin:

I am upset over the gross spending habits of our legislature. They are spending like drunken sailors. Just because oil revenues are high doesn't mean we should spend it all. I think we need to consider the fact that some day the gravy train will end. We should decrease our budget by at least 25%. And consider putting in a new oil refinery, our god forbid the state might consider building the pipeline from the slop to Fairbanks ourselves, then lease it to the oil companys.

So pull in the spending and create somthing good from the over taxation of the oil companys.

Dear Rep. Chenault,

Please accept the attached advanced copy of a letter from Kenai Area Fisherman's Coalition regarding our concerns with the lack of public process in the development and planning of ADF&G's intentions to build a new boat ramp on the lower Kasilof River. We believe this project should have been proceeded with public hearings, comment opportunity and complete habitat assessments.

We understand that this project is included in this years budget, therefore we request that you consider our concerns and object to this proposal pending proper public review.

Thank you for consideration in this matter.

MESSAGE:

Hon. Palin. I am thrilled that you are providing a new clear voice of reason for our State. Forgive my brainstorming here but I have a lot of spare time on my hands lately. I think some of the budget surplus should be utilized to develop programs in the following areas:

- Environmental Protections standards (EPA). Since we will no doubt continue mining operations and expand oil exploration in some form or another, we need appropriate legal safeguards written into our state law to mitigate the environmental damage that will occur. Research environmental cleanup and develop an enforcement mechanism.

- We need a branch of the American Medical Association to come to Alaska and establish standards for Alaska's medical practices. Currently, patients have no way to enforce their rights against malpractice or quackery. Alaska needs to establish better standards of practice outside of a doctor's basic business license requirement to operate on our State.

- Better graduate programs- most obviously:

- A law school in Alaska (a) to train future legislators to write better law (b) to set rational precedent in order to create sensible common law in Alaska to guide litigants (e.g. we have a lot of sexual harassment suits and divorce but very few "good faith and fair dealing" questions litigated for the establishment of fair business practices. In addition, we have a lot of criminal prosecution for minor offenses involving traffic infractions but fewer meaningful criminal prosecutions are brought against the most violent of criminals. And why are we still permitting domestic violence to go unpunished?

- A medical school to provide a more affordable avenue to train local students for local medical practice rather than relying on our current system of kids in the UW medical school rotation to provide Alaska with doctors.

- Elder care facilities- disband the current charities that do not deliver service to the elderly and put some state surplus money back into expanding the Pioneer Home program, increasing its staffing ratio, and developing new elder care facilities. We have an elder care crisis in Alaska that can no longer be ignored.

- Child care facilities. Put some funding surplus money back into child care. Recent news stories evidence the urgency for child care programs.

- Care for disabled. Put funding surplus money back into facilities to help the severely disabled live a more comfortable life. Various municipalities throughout Alaska need help to reopen facilities that were closed in recent years.

- Safe and sanitary plumbing should be brought to rural communities. This really should have been done a long time ago.

- Prosecute grant fraud for charities who fail to deliver service. There are many organizations fronting as charities to obtain grant money, bank their profits, and not fulfill the purpose of the charitable organization stated in their federal tax nonprofit paperwork or Alaska license paperwork. The State of Alaska should begin rejecting these grant proposals and perhaps private enterprise can develop which will answer some of the business needs in our communities through the establishment of new small businesses. The State grant funds that are being wasted on nonperforming "charities" should be redirected into improving the other basic programs listed above.

Thanks for letting me share my thoughts with you.

The trustees have been making such purchases for years. Can the 3 of us get the green light to act in our best judgment tomorrow which in most of these would be to vote for the purchases? The reason the IBU portion of this settlement is so late is that I was so mad about it at the end of the session last year that I held on to it and didn't submit it to the Legislature for funding. I talked with our attorneys at Law on each of these settlements - Labor Relations Specialist Nancy Sutch's comment in the Empire comes the closest - we don't like having to pay.

We are trying to amend the contracts, and you'll see the kind of pressure the unions will attempt here in the next few weeks.

Governor - the funding in the supplemental request is based on an arbitration decision for monetary damages payable to the union for alternate service following the grounding of the LeConte in 2004. We did not receive the decisions in time to address this last session, so they are in the FY2008 supplemental request we submitted to the legislature. Commissioner Kreitzer can provide more information on the details of this if you need them - here is a listing of the unions involved - Karen

International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots (MM&P) $317,500.61

Marine Engineers Beneficial Association (MEBA) $19,964.60

I didn't want to send this to everyone else... Part of the problem is the DOT/PF needing to FOLLOW THE CONTRACT. I have Nancy Sutch dogging them whenever I hear about a ferry system disruption, but sometimes they move forward without consulting us and we end up in this kind of situation. Hopefully, we are pulling in the same direction now.

Governor - the funding in the supplemental request is based on an arbitration decision for monetary damages payable to the union for alternate service following the grounding of the LeConte in 2004. We did not receive the decisions in time to address this last session, so they are in the FY2008 supplemental request we submitted to the legislature.

Commissioner Kreitzer can provide more information on the details of this if you need them - here is a listing of the unions involved - Karen

International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots (MM&P) $317,500.61

Marine Engineers Beneficial Association (MEBA) $19,964.60

We'll probably use mileage for the kids' tickets if Alaska doesn't fund First Family travel for NGA annual mtg. This necessitates even earlier reservations.

Pls let me know dates and airports in the vicinity. Driving from a less-expensive airport arrival into Penn may be necessary... everything's going to depend on family ticket prices. Thanks

Here's the latest with personal cell phone reimbursement. In sum, it's as I thought-- questions of confidentiality are still unanswered by Law. Kim Garnero (Finance director) thinks that personal emails on a personal device would be confidential and not subject to subpoena, however the question is still unanswered by Law.

I'm just getting to the office and will follow up with Kim on a timeframe of when we'll hear back with a legal opinion. I'll also ask if personal emails have always been routed through the state server.

Well that's understandable that state business could be subpoenaed off a personal device, but personal emails on a personal device are confidential? What type of situation would constitute subpoena of personal emails? I'm really just trying to weigh the benefits of a personal vs state device.

We are also waiting on Dept. of Law for confidentiality issues, but I can tell you that using a personal device results in much less probability of audit or ding by the state. It's a strong motivator to move to the personal device with allowance status.

That said, if you have state business on a personal device, it is possible that information could be subpeona'd or accessed through other "public access to information" avenues. This would be specific to a topic, not just the work of an individual.

Does this answer the question?

Thanks, Kim. I have your original email. My question is if we have a personal blackberry that we route our state email to, and also receive reimbursement from the state each month, and sign the reimbursement contract w the state, can our phone and email records be audited or can we as state employees be dinged in any way for having our personal and state emails route to the same device. I would gladly buy my own blackberry if it and its contents were truely mine. Any thoughts here?

Hi Ivy,

The monthly allowance amounts for personal devices are now available. I sent out an email with the form and FAQs on March 7th. I'll forward to you.

Allowance is $40 per month for cell and $75 for Blackberry.

Not waiting for Law on this one. All we need is a form signed by supervisor and employee that the device is needed and that employee has opted to provide.

Waiting for Law to opine on the ethics issues regarding personal use of business assets.

After you see the next email, let me know if you have any other questions.

Governor:

At your request, I reviewed HB 287. The bill would place a number of new obligations on the Alaska Permanent Fund, including divesting from companies that do business with Sudan. (The Sudanese government is accused of sponsoring genocide against civilians in Darfur) The bill's prime sponsors are Rep. Lynn and Rep. Gara.

The bill has been heard once this session in House State Affairs. Mike Burns of the Permanent Fund testified against the bill ("we do not believe that investment decisions made for social or political reasons are in the best interest of the permanent fund.") The permanent fund also produced a fiscal note estimating costs at nearly $11 million for FY 2009, and about $8 million a year for every year thereafter. The permanent fund attributes most of these costs to fund managers raising their rates for having to change how they handle their portfolios.

I hope you stand your ground and VETO those earmark items that are a waste of our money and tell Stevens its time to get with the program. I'm tired of his wastefull spending. If you need some help, give me a call. Also about the gas/oil prices. Why can't you/us/alaskans put a limit on what the state will allow the oil companies to sell gas and fuel oil for in Alaska. Why open up our preserves to them, they are only going to gouge us more in the end. I know we don't need more laws but I think these companies have taken way to much advantage of the Alaskan people/ USA in general. Can't we set a presidence on limiting there price/profit/ in alaska. Why give them more oil, that's not going to bring the price at the pump down or my fue oil bill. I know you can play hard ball so lets play. No matt
